FOREWORD

It is my pleasure to present you the ASEAN University Network Annual Report 2016-2017.

It was recently in November 2015 that marked the 20th anniversary of the establishment of the ASEAN University Network. From its beginning in 1995, there have been considerable developments and great achievements in strengthening the network of universities and promoting higher education in the region over the two decades. The success has been proved by the tireless commitment from member universities in sharing mutual aspirations to reinforce higher education development. Through the late establishment of collaboration and policies, AUN was able to extend its partnership with member universities beyond ASEAN countries including dialogue partners from China, Japan, Republic of Korea and the EU. Hard work has borne fruits in the development and acknowledgement of ASEAN higher education across borders.

Commencing the third decade with the launch of the AUN Strategic Goals 2016-2018, AUN has been active in reaching the goals and objectives to further enhance opportunities for students to learn in hope for a better education for the development of human resources within ASEAN. It has been crucial that AUN activities, programmes and projects are efficient by enhancing the ASEAN awareness, focusing on the engagement of youth while ensuring the quality and relevance of university education.

The success of the AUN would not be possible without the collaborative support and strong commitment from all stakeholders. Therefore, I would like to extend my gratitude to member universities, partner organisations and the ASEAN community who share the common goals. I can foresee great potential in the development of ASEAN higher education and human resources in the future and also believe that the cross-border cooperation will not benefit just regionally but globally. Although it is my first year working with the AUN as Chairman of the AUN Board of Trustees, I would like to confirm my support and dedication in every possible way to ensure the last-long achievements and the role of AUN as the leading network of higher education in ASEAN.

Mr. Suphat Champatong, Ph.D.
Secretary-General for Higher Education
Commission, Thailand
and Chairman of the AUN Board of Trustees

*Assoc. Prof. Nantana Gajasen, Ph.D.
AUN Executive Director*

AUN Talks

The past year has been another significant and successful year in which we witnessed the remarkable progress of ASEAN University Network (AUN) and effort in promoting the higher education development and enhancing ASEAN integration. As this year marks the end of my term to serve as the AUN Executive Director, let me express my greatest pleasure to present you the AUN Annual Report which reflects and highlights our accomplishments in 2016-2017. Significantly, there are a greater number of universities in ASEAN joining the AUN-QA Network as AUN-QA Associate Members and recognising the important and vital role of Quality Assurance in ensuring the quality of higher education in the region.

On July 19, 2016 the ASEAN University Network Quality Assurance (AUN-QA) had successfully launched its first Quality Assurance Framework at Institutional Level which is the first regional system and mechanism of its kind in Southeast Asia. Consequently the "Guide to AUN-QA Assessment at Institutional Level" was initially employed at the 1st AUN-QA Assessment at Institutional Level at the Vietnam National University-Hanoi in January 2017 and followed by De La Salle University, the Philippines, in March 2017 and Universitas Indonesia in May 2017. For programme assessment since December 2007, 248 undergraduate and graduate programmes in 37 universities in 8 ASEAN countries were already assessed by AUN-QA and ASEAN-QA.

For student activities, it is our determination to equip the youth of ASEAN with competencies relevant to the fast changing and more globalised world, in particular to have a closer collaboration with universities from plus three countries (P.R. China, Japan and the Republic of Korea) to promote AUN youth platform beyond academic activities such as AUN & ASEAN+3 Educational Forum & Young Speaker Contest, ASEAN+3 Youth Cultural Forum, student internship and exchange programmes.

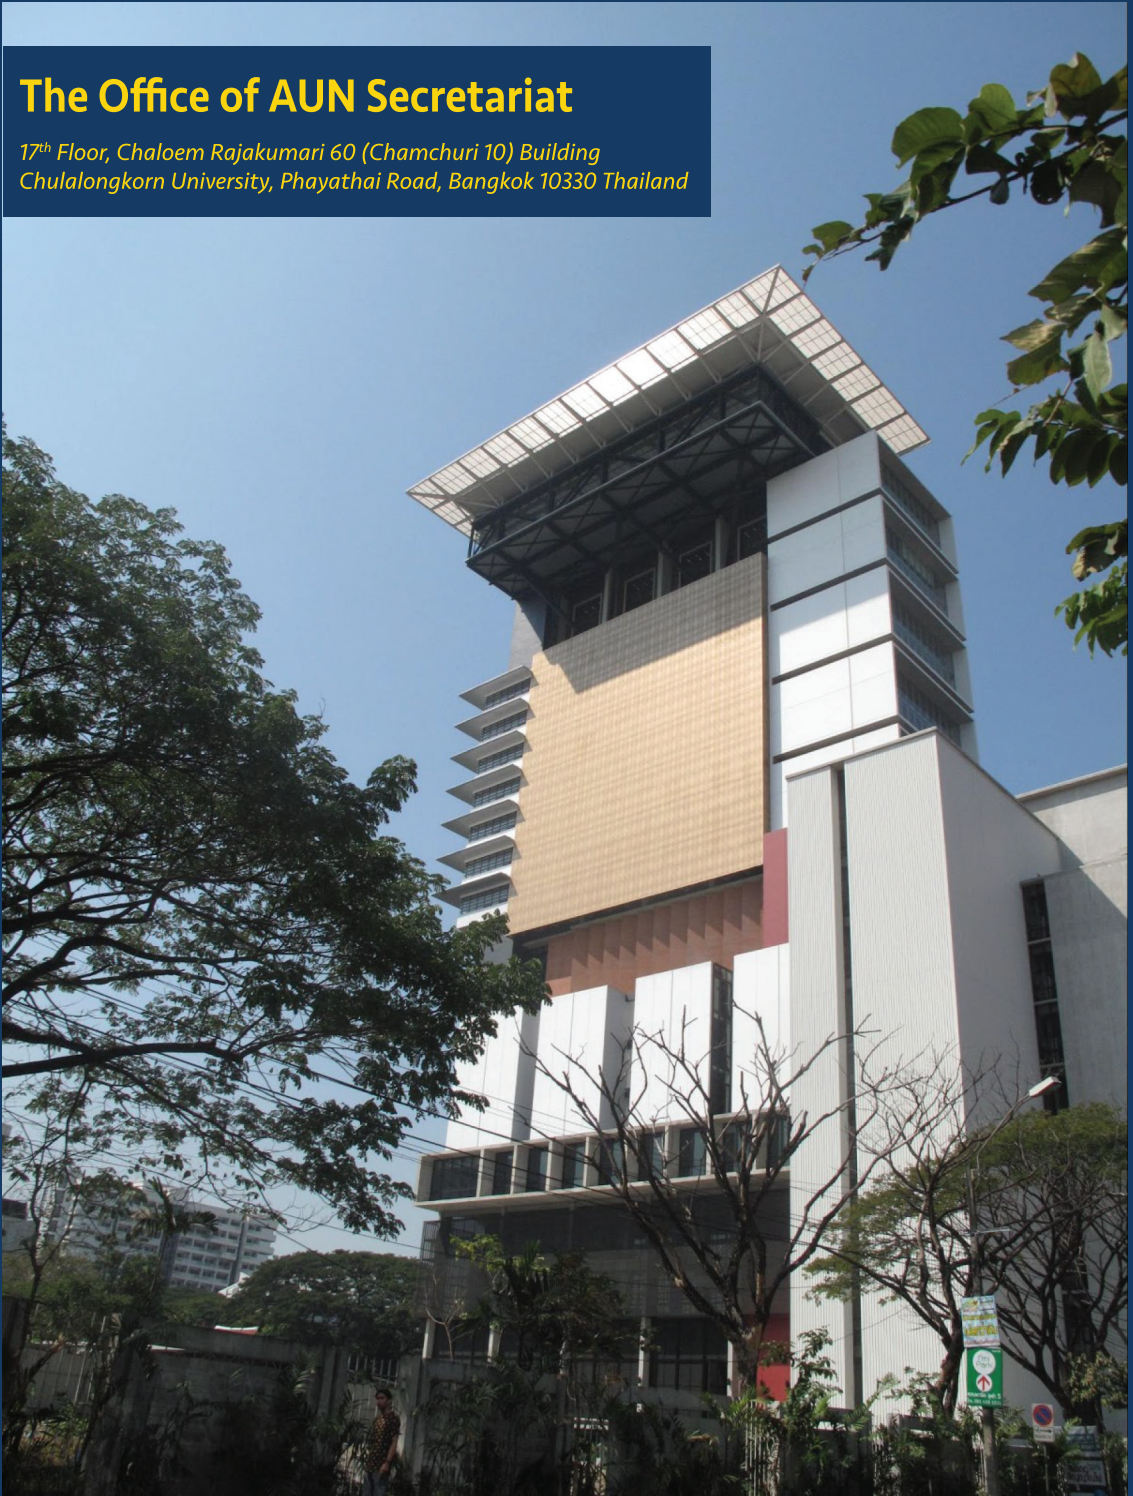

All of our fruitful deliverables would never have been achieved without the core values, belief and support of AUN member universities, thematic networks, and our dialogue partners. Thus I would like to express my heartfelt and sincere gratitude to everyone who has contributed, in one way or another, to the realisation of our accomplishments.

Lastly, even though this year will be my last term with AUN, the journey will not end here. I do hope that the cooperation which has been sustainably established will continue effectively to achieve our common goals of a better and more integrated ASEAN.

Thank You.

1992

The 4th ASEAN Summit, the call for cooperation in the field of higher education and human resource development.

1995

Charter of the ASEAN University Network was signed by the ASEAN Ministers responsible for higher education and Agreement on the Establishment of the ASEAN University Network was signed by Presidents, Rectors and Vice-Chancellors of participating university.

2008

ASEAN Sectoral Ministerial Body responsible for higher education cooperation and development.

HISTORY & BACKGROUND

The 4th ASEAN Summit in 1992 called for ASEAN Member Countries to help “hasten the solidarity and development of a regional identity through the promotion of human resource development so as to further strengthen the existing network of leading universities and institutions of higher learning in the region.” The idea was later developed into the ASEAN University Network (AUN), which was established in November 1995 with the signing of its Charter by the Ministers responsible for Higher Education from ASEAN countries, the signing of the Agreement on the Establishment of the AUN by the presidents, rectors, and vice- chancellors of participating universities and the formation of the AUN Board of Trustees.

Currently, the Network comprises “30 core” member universities, which participate in all AUN activities as the backbone and testing ground of the Network’s projects.

The main objective of the AUN is to strengthen the existing network of cooperation among leading universities in ASEAN by promoting cooperation and solidarity among ASEAN scholars and academics, developing academic and professional human resources, and promoting information dissemination among the ASEAN academic community. Indeed, the network has formed the ASEAN countries’ united quest for academic collaborations in identified priority areas to deepen understanding of the dynamic ASEAN and, accordingly, hasten regional identity and solidarity.

Today, the AUN is a network widely recognised as a vital mechanism for the build-up of an active and renowned ASEAN community in higher education. Given such importance, the AUN was highly commended by the Meeting of Ministers for Education in ASEAN Countries for its achievements in upgrading the capacity of ASEAN human resources and enhancing the quality of education of the AUN member universities. With the strengths and expertise of our members, the AUN can play a major role in broadening the integration of the ten ASEAN countries, into one cohesive ASEAN Community and narrowing the development gap among them, which are ultimate goals of ASEAN.

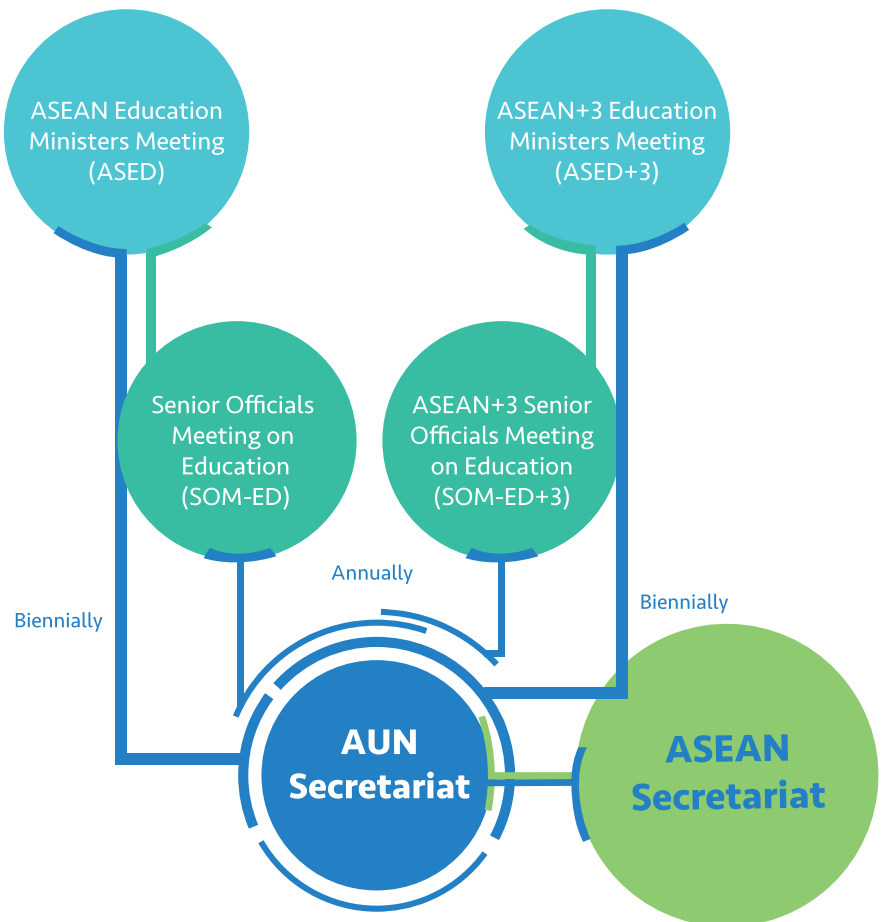

Functions of AUN Secretariat

The main functions of AUN Secretariat cover planning, organising, coordinating, monitoring and evaluating AUN programmes and activities. The AUN Secretariat's task also include developing ideas, innovations and proposal for cooperation under AUN as well as to develop plans and mechanisms for sourcing and generating funds to self-reliant and self-sustaining operation of the Network. AUN works closely with the ASEAN Secretariat in reporting progress and proposing initiatives for further intra-regional and Inter-regional cooperation in higher education.

At the regional level, AUN directly reports its progress and contributes its inputs and initiatives to the Senior Officials Meeting on Education (SOM-ED) and the ASEAN Education Ministers Meeting (ASED). SOM-ED is held annually back-to-back with SOM-ED+3 whereas the ASED is held biennially back-to-back with ASED+3.

At the summit level, the reported progress of AUN is included with the input at the annual ASEAN Summit for acknowledgement, endorsement and further recommendations.

The AUN Strategic Goals 2016 - 2018

is set as a guideline for the AUN to deliver our activities and programmes that covers a three year period and shall be updated annually to our AUN Board of Trustees. The AUN Strategic Goals comprise

- G1) Quality Gap Narrowed;
- G2) Emerging Priorities Engaged;
- G3) Exposure Expanded;
- G4) In-Depth Awareness Achieved; and
- G5) Teaching and learning.

This annual report has reflected the commitments and achievements of the one year results to this AUN Strategic Plan.

G1

Quality Gap Narrowed

Description : Universities around Southeast Asia must foster the quality of education to induce ease of student mobility within the region (exchange programmes and scholarships) and attract students from all over the world as ASEAN evolves into a research and development-oriented education hub.

Objective : To narrow the development gap through the active cooperation in quality assurance programmes and project.

G2

Emerging Priorities Engaged

Description : As a region aimed for integration, challenges and priorities must be addressed as a common issue. Members of ASEAN must now also direct their attention to not only their individual engagements with regard to higher education, but also the general matters that affect ASEAN as a whole.

Objective : To engage in emerging priorities and challenges of higher education with effective regional and international collaboration.

G3

Exposure Expanded

Description : It has been established that international exposure in education is beneficial for its concerned stakeholders, especially students. It provides students the opportunity to see the world through different lenses and gain new and innovative knowledge creating a balance between objective and subjective education.

Objective : To expand the opportunities and educational resources through multiple international exposure, activities, programmes and policies

G4

In-depth Awareness Achieved

Description : Exposure does not necessarily entail awareness of details and systems within a certain domain. Hence, the need for further knowledge and consciousness of the ASEAN Region is a must. This knowledge dispersion and cultivation must be done in the most profound way.

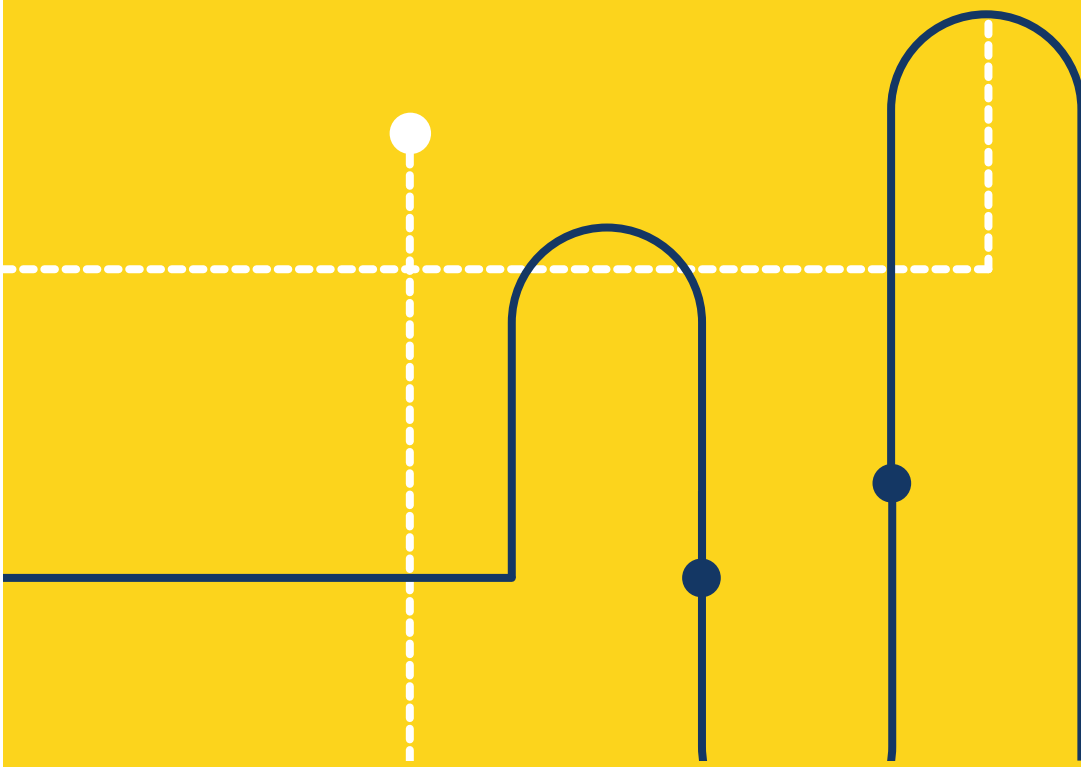

Objective : To achieve high level awareness of the ASEAN Region in order to preserve the diversity and prepare for the next generation of leaders.

G5

Teaching and Learning

Description : ASEAN's goal of evolving as a quality research and development-oriented education hub must coincide with the needs and values of ASEAN. This will make the ASEAN Education a unique achievement and experience not only for ASEAN students but also international students from all over the world.

Objective : To enhance innovative teaching and learning approach among AUN Member Universities.

AUN-QA Institutional Assessment

Since the inception of the AUN-QA assessment at the programme level in 2007, more than 200 study programmes have been assessed by AUN-QA Network and AUN-QA members and associate members have benefited from the assessment. However, the effect in improving the quality of institutional management of education, research, and service is limited at the programme level as the focus of improvement is often incremental and at the micro level.

The institutional approach to quality assurance considers the institution as a whole, including its strategic, systemic and functional quality assurance in education, research and service. Its objectives are to enhance the quality of education, research and service holistically; and to assess the effectiveness of the internal quality assurance system. Thus, institutional quality assessment supports the progressive development goal of AUN-QA Network towards institutional quality assurance in higher education in ASEAN.

Testimonials

Thida Swe Nil (Myanmar)

Master's, Microbiology, Huazhong University of Science and Technology

I got successful in getting ASEAN University Network Scholarship at the best University in China. I came to China with a hope of love, good quality education and all of the friendship between ASEAN and China. Different events in life teach us different things and we have new experience each time. I learned many things during that period, I got chance to learn about the geology climate of different countries. It was a great opportunity to exchange culture, ideas and learn about new thing, language or technology. Some of those events cannot be forgotten throughout my life. The interesting and surprising thing about Chinese community is that these people are really not only hard working but also attached to their basic moral and cultural values. The experiences are too many to share on this platform but specifically I would like to thank the ASEAN University Network.

Phusit Kanchanatiripop (Thailand)

Ph.D., Computer Application Technology, Hunan University

I involve myself in numerous university and volunteer organizations. I worked for the past 3 years as a member of Thai student association, and was elected as a vice president of International Student Committee. I have success in helping the committee establish a clear mission statement and guidelines. In order to broaden my knowledge and skill in IT, I wish to continue my research in Big Data Technology and Cloud Computing field. Thanks you Chinese Government and ASEAN University Network for your generous support.

Lee Say Wah (Malaysia)

Master's, Business Administration,
Xi'an Jiaotong University

The best experience I have gained from this programme is the opportunity to use China's effective and efficient e-commerce services while studying in China. As an example, although I am living in Xi'an, I could order a product sold from Beijing online and have it delivered to me within 2 to 3 days. Credits have to be given to these Chinese companies' supply chain management and speedy services. I have a lot to learn from them, especially how they run their businesses so productively within such a big country with over one billion population. Coincidentally, my academic adviser specialises in e-commerce, so I get to do my thesis on this topic which intrigues me the most about China.

Syvanh Phon Asa (Laos)

Ph.D., International Trade, Dongbei University of Finance and Economics

The China-AUN has been an incredible experience for me. I have gained so much knowledge about China and the world through my host-Dongbei University of Finance and Economics and friends. Everything was difficult when I began life here, because I did not know Chinese before, but now I have connections all over the world. I have also become independent, outgoing and confident. I will cherish all the amazing experiences I've had. My university and all teachers were amazing and they did so many little things for me that made my courses more than perfect. My friends were the best. I can proudly say that nowhere in the world will anyone find friends better than the ones I found. They are from Vietnamese, Bangladeshi, Pakistani, Afghan, and many more. I will never forget them nor forget what we did. They introduced me into what I am now and helped me become fluent and achieve all my other goals. It is safe to say that my last semester was a huge success as I now see my University as my real family and I see my friends as the best friends anyone could ever want. For me, the Dalian would be what I called home for the last 12 months ago and forever. China-AUN Scholarship under support by CSC has impacted me greatly, as I have become a lot more open to new things and a world bigger than just my comfort zone. I can do so much more than I ever thought was possible. I have had a great experience, and I am looking forward to what comes next. More fun filled times, more excitement, and more challenges.

What is ACTS?

ACTS Comprises of 3 Components:

- Grading scales
- Online list of available courses
- Online application system

ACTS will be a student-centered system based on students’ workloads in terms of the achievement of learning outcomes. The system has been designed in order to accommodate differences in use among AUN universities in grading conversion systems when students participate in the exchange programme at an AUN Member University for the duration of 1-2 semesters.

How Does ACTS Work?

By applying for the ACTS, credits that students earn during the exchange study at the Host University will be collected and will be automatically transferred back to the Home University when the exchange period ends.

- Students will receive the credits assigned from a course that they earn in the Host University during the exchange period.

ACTS Grade	Description	Normal Distribution Guide (if necessary)
A	Excellent	10%
B	Very Good	25%
C	Good	30%
D	Satisfactory	25%
E/F	Fail	10%

The ACTS Application Process for Students:

Step 1: Getting started

1. Go to the ACTS website <http://acts.ui.ac.id/>
2. Choose your preferred courses that are available up to 19, 549 courses on ACTS website (please see the Academic Calendar of the host university that match with your university)
3. Register to the online system and complete the application form
4. Print and send the application form to the International Relations Office (or any authorized body) at your university, along with the supporting documents to be reviewed
5. Wait for the confirmation and approval from Host University (your destination), the confirmation and notification email will be sent to you approximately within one month

(Note: students who meet the criteria set up by the host will be selected to participate in the exchange programme)

Welcome to ACTS!

ASEAN Credit Transfer System (ACTS) is a student-centered system applied to student mobility among AUN (ASEAN University Network) Member Universities. This system was developed to facilitate student mobility under AUN Student Exchange Program. ACTS has been designed to accommodate differences in the implementation of credit system among the member universities without any requirement to modify the existing institutional or national credit system.

ACTS mainly focuses on promoting people-to-people linkage with its three aims: enrichment of purpose, enhancement of students' soft skills and exposure of international experience. ACTS also benefits students in three ways: credit earning, intellectual exchange and networking of ASEAN friends. During the first two years of ACTS implementation (since 2011), there are more than 100 students from 6 ASEAN countries have participated in AUN Student Exchange Program under ACTS scheme.

AUN-QA Institutional Assessment Guidebook

The 2nd version of the AUN-QA Framework for Institutional Level was launched on 19 July 2016 at Vietnam National University-Hanoi, Viet Nam. It is designed as a transnational quality assurance framework to support the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) and to promote cross-border mobility for students and faculty members and internationalisation of higher education. The design of the framework is referenced to the ASEAN Quality Assurance Framework (AQAF), Standards and Guidelines for Quality Assurance in the European Higher Education Area (ESG 2015 – Part 1) and Baldrige Performance Excellence Framework (Education -2015/16). The framework provides a holistic approach to institutional quality assurance in higher education encompassing strategic, systemic and functional quality assurance systems as well as results. It consists of 25 criteria with each criterion embracing the Plan-Do-Check-Act (PDCA) principle.

CLM Translated Manuals

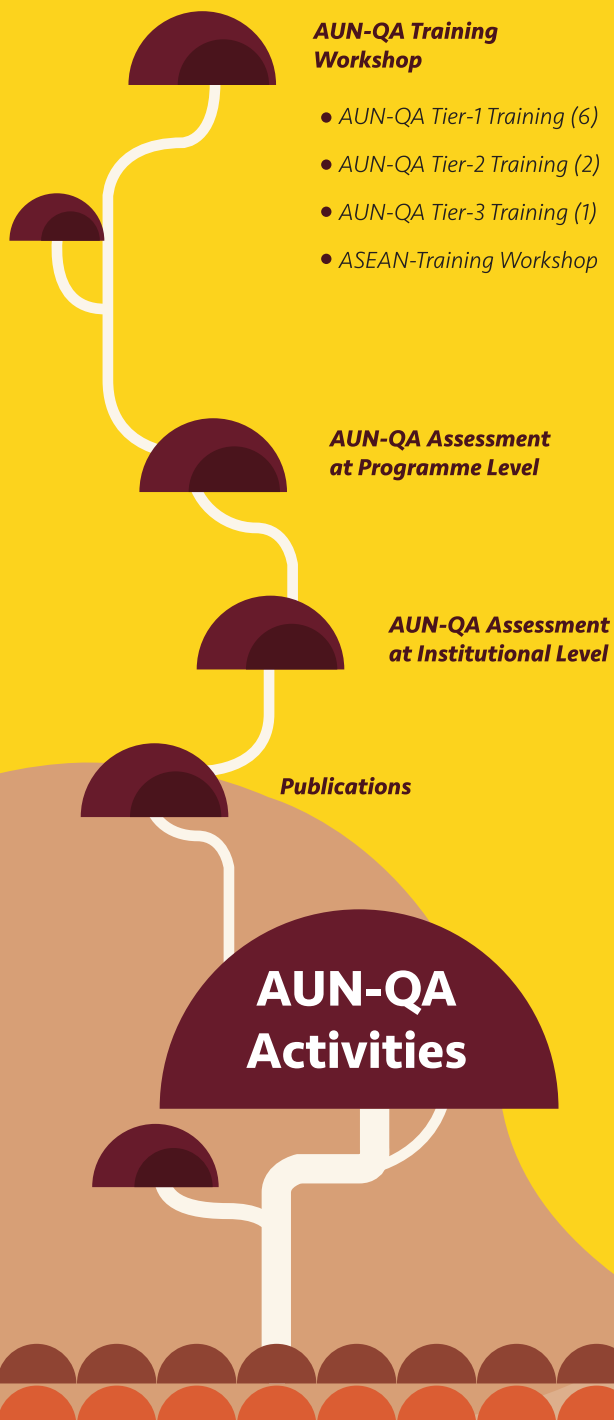

The bilingual quality assurance manuals were developed based on AUN-QA Framework at Programme Level. The manual was the fruit of collaboration between AUN-QA Network and participating universities in Cambodia, Lao PDR and Myanmar under the 3-year AUN-ADB documentation project. The 3-year project (2014 - 2016) was initiated as part of Phase 3 of the AUN-ADB project on "Strengthening Capacity of University Quality Assurance System towards Uplifting Higher Education Quality in Cambodia, Lao PDR and Myanmar (CLM Countries)". The objectives of the project were:

- enhance and strengthen the basic QA management system at the programme level;
- establish a documentation system for existing QA at programme level based on AUN-QA Framework; and
- provide a common reference for QA.

The universities participated in the project were Royal University of Phnom Penh and Royal University of Law and Economics of Cambodia; National University of Laos and University of Health Sciences of Lao PDR; and Myanmar Maritime University of Myanmar.
